Explanation and Directions for this Advance Directive:
• This is an important legal document that allows you to define your choices as it relates to your future healthcare.
• This is a way to communicate these preferences to those who care about you (friends, family and others) and for your healthcare providers (like your doctor).
• This document activates only when you are unable to or choose not to make healthcare decisions for yourself.
• PART ONE is your choice for a healthcare agent and alternates. This is the person(s) you choose to make healthcare decisions on your behalf.
• PART TWO is your choices for treatment preferences including your choices in requesting or refusing medical treatment.
• PART THREE is the signatures needed to make this document legal. You may fill out EITHER Part One, Part Two, or both, but IF you have filled out ANY section of this form then Part Three MUST be filled in to make it legal.
• This document does NOT give permission for your healthcare agent to:
  1) make business or financial decisions on your behalf
  2) make behavioral health treatment, sterilization, treatment or involuntary hospitalization for mental or emotional illness, or addictive disease decisions on your behalf

Steps to take after completing this Advance Directive:
• Talk to the person(s) you named as your healthcare agent and alternates about your goals and preferences for future medical care. Be sure he/she feels he/she can serve in this important role.
• Talk to your family and close friends. Be sure they know who your agent and alternates are and what your preferences are.
• Give your healthcare agent a copy of your completed advance directive. Make copies and give to your doctor and healthcare facility
• Keep a copy where it can easily be found.
• If you are going to the hospital or a nursing home, take a copy of this document with you and ask that it be placed in your medical record.

What do you do with an old advance directive (GA Advance Directive, Living Will, etc.)?
• Destroy any paper copies.
• Direct another person to destroy it in your presence.
• Revoke it by signing a written and dated statement or by stating that it is revoked in the presence of a witness.

How often should you consider making changes to your advance directive?
It is good to review and update your advance directive when one of the following occurs:
• Decade – at the start of a new decade of your life (i.e., every 10 years)
• Death – if your healthcare agent dies and you need to name a new agent or if your choices have changed after the death of a loved one
• Divorce – if you marry someone other than your healthcare agent or if you divorce your healthcare agent, then this document is automatically revoked
• Diagnosis – if you are diagnosed with a serious illness
• Decline – if your health gets worse over time, especially if you are no longer able to live on your own
