

The Legend of the 2030 BURDS

Deep in the pine thickets and lush valleys of Hall County, Georgia, grow a flock of small wild BURDS. With their wings proudly stretched, these distinctive creatures are no bigger than a hand yet large with personality and perpetual mischief.

Legend has it that the flock originally nested in the far reaches of barns and covered bridges, showing up from time to time. But, like many elusive creatures, these BURDS are heard but seldom seen, lesser still caught or tamed.

With population and growth, they spread their range, and some have come to roost at NGMC Gainesville and Braselton locations. These BURDS have a unique plaintive, sounding somewhat like a child's cry... "Find Me!"

The BURDS do love people but remain elusive – ever waiting for the slightest hint of human recognition.

What happens upon discovery is as mystical as the creatures themselves. With human detection, they freeze their movement, solidify their posture and maintain an eternal gaze and stance. Each discovered BURD becomes gilded in refined gold, reflecting the first gold discovered in 1836 in Hall County or perhaps the first mint established on Gainesville's Square.

Vision 2030 Public Art's

Brenau Urban Rural Discovery Secrets

Post your BURD discoveries on social media with hashtag #2030BURDS

Vision 2030 Public Art | www.2030art.org

When you have found each of the BURDs on the NGMC Gainesville campus, please stop by one of the Window Shops for a small prize.

Find another Flock and Field Guide at NGMC Braselton.

A project of The Window Shops and The Medical Center Auxiliary's Teen and College Volunteer Program.

09.18 | MP | 750

FIELD GUIDE TO BURDS

A SCAVENGER HUNT

FOR THE YOUNG OR YOUNG AT HEART

GAINESVILLE EDITION

 The Medical Center Auxiliary

Begonia

Perched up high upon a rock, Begonia is the first BURD in the flock.

1

USE
THE CLUES

2

Blythe

Hidden behind an angel blue, Blythe sits and waits for you.

Betsy

Betsy loves to sing under the shadow of an angel's wings.

3

4

Blaine

It's an "honor" to be placed so high; Blaine likes to look out at the sky.

Brooke

On her perch by a waterfall, Brooke is the most peaceful of them all.

5

6

Benjamin

There is an outside place to pray where Benjamin helps you find your way.

FIND THE BURDS

Benedict

Where you go inside to sit and pray, Benedict is hidden away.

7

8

Beverly

Beverly is hoping to catch your eye while you look for gifts to buy.

9

Beth

Where patients come but do not stay, Beth is hiding and waiting to play.

10

Booker

Booker hides near a giant frog, but you may also spot a dog.

11

Barkley

Where the trail of paw prints ends, Barkley plays with her furry friends.

USE
#2030BURDS
TO SHARE
PHOTOS

12

Basil

Where the humans go south to eat, Basil is patiently waiting for a treat.

Need a Hint? 1 Check outside before going in the North Patient Tower. 2 Anne's Garden is a quiet place to be. 3 These wings are hard to miss. 4 Here is a place recognizing many people's contributions. 5 How many waterfalls are in this garden? 6 This garden families. 11 Pets and patients can come together here. 12 Find an outside dining area. The Window Shops? 9 It's not an in-patient area. 10 This garden is a special place for

Who else loves is named for a special lady. 7 He lives in a circular worship area. 8 Who else loves