

Northeast Georgia Health System

COMMUNITY BENEFIT REPORT 2012

Organization Overview

Northeast Georgia Health System (NGHS) is a not-for-profit community health system dedicated to improving the health and quality of life of the people of Northeast Georgia. Through the services of a medical staff of more than 500 physicians, the residents of Northeast Georgia have access to comprehensive medical services. The Health System offers a full range of healthcare services through its hospital in Gainesville, Northeast Georgia Medical Center (NGMC), which was named one of the country's 100 Top Hospitals by Truven Health Analytics. Northeast Georgia Medical Center's expert level of care has been recognized on a national and statewide level including:

- Number one in Georgia and top 5% in the nation for Cardiac Care
- Accredited with Commendation by the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer for Cancer Care
- CARF-accreditation for inpatient rehabilitation including stroke specialty care certification, one of the first in the nation
- American Society of Bariatric Surgery Center of Excellence certification and the first hospital in Georgia to offer gastric bypass surgery using the da Vinci robotic surgical system.

'We are committed to improving the health of our community in all we do.'

– NGHS mission statement

Additional facilities in Hall County include: three urgent care centers; a mental health and substance abuse treatment center; two outpatient imaging centers; two long-term care centers; and outpatient physical, occupational and speech therapy clinics. NGHS also plans to build a new hospital in the Greater Braselton area. This 119-acre healthcare village, called River Place, already includes a medical office building that houses numerous physician specialties, an urgent care center and outpatient services including imaging, lab and physical and occupational therapy.

Led by volunteer boards made up of community leaders, the 557-inpatient, 261-skilled nursing bed health system serves almost 700,000 people in more than 13 counties across Northeast Georgia. As a not-for-profit health system, all revenue generated above operating expenses is returned to the community through improved services and innovative programs. NGMC's Charity Care Policy supports the provision of care for indigent patients, regardless of their ability to pay.

Facilities throughout northeast Georgia serve to extend NGHS' reach into the community, including: additional outpatient rehabilitation centers offering physical, occupational and speech therapy; a satellite cancer treatment center; and in-home services such as hospice and Lifeline, a personal emergency response system.

NGMC Recognition/News

Northeast Georgia Medical Center (NGMC) is one of the nation's 100 Top Hospitals® according to a study by Truven Health Analytics, formerly the healthcare business of Thomson Reuters. The study names top hospitals in five different categories - from Major Teaching Hospitals to Small Community Hospitals - and NGMC is one of only 20 "Large Community Hospitals" selected. NGMC is also the only hospital in Georgia to make the list in any category. This is the second time NGMC has made the 100 Top Hospitals list and comes on the heels of the hospital being named one of America's 50 Best Hospitals for 2013 by Healthgrades®. NGMC is the only hospital in Georgia named to the list.

Economic Impact

In 2010, the latest information available, NGMC generated over $1 billion in revenue for the local and state economy according to the Georgia Hospital Association, the state's largest hospital trade association.

Charity Care

NGMC's charity care policy removes barriers for low-income populations beginning with free care for patients up to 150% of the poverty level. Further, self-pay patients up to 300% of the poverty level qualify for an adjustment equivalent to the hospital's Medicare reimbursement rate plus an additional 40% discount.

Total Charity Care Cost for FY12:

- $15.6 million for Hall County
- $9.2 million for regional residents

Community Outreach

NGMC values cooperative efforts with community services and other healthcare providers to improve the health status of area citizens. NGMC demonstrates its value for collaborative efforts within the community through many partnerships ranging from serving as lead agency of the Safe Kids Coalition of Gainesville-Hall County, to partnering with community health organizations, to helping reach at-risk populations in need of healthcare.

In FY12, over $4.8 million was provided in community benefit programs/outreach.

Community education was provided through free community lectures, various support groups, and the semi-annual health magazine, Communicare. Presentations were made through the Speaker's Bureau, and NGMC also offered smoking cessation classes, as well as Living Lighter, a weight loss program. NGMC offered seven free community education seminars in 2012 on topics including colorectal cancer, health tips for seniors, women's health education and more. These seminars generated more than 400 participants and many different physicians from practices throughout the community participated in the seminars.

Highlights of Community Benefit Programs and Activities

Partnering to Reach the Uninsured: Health Access Initiative, Good News Clinics, and Hall County Health Department

NGMC continues partnering with others in the community on the issue of reaching the uninsured or underserved with the healthcare they need. NGMC is an active member and partner with initiatives aimed at this important issue such as Health Access Initiative (HAI). In 2012, HAI benefitted from major funding through The Medical Center Foundation's (MCF) Healthy Journey Campaign.

The Medical Center also provided office space as an in-kind donation. By agreement, HAI clients utilize both inpatient and diagnostic services at the Medical Center.

HAI enrolls adult (18 – 64-year-olds) residents of Hall County who are uninsured and not eligible for other public programs and are at or below 150% of federal poverty level ($30,000 for a family of 4). Close to one-fourth of the Hall County population (22%) has income below 150% of the federal poverty level guidelines (US Census, 2000).

Approximately 21% of the population in Hall County is uninsured.

Funding from NGMC also helps provide medications, medical supplies and other support for Good News

Clinics – the largest free clinic in Georgia. Founded in 1992, Good News Clinics is a Christian ministry that provides medical care to the indigent and uninsured population at no charge. In FY12, over $350,000 was donated to help Good News Clinics provide care to indigent patients who were at or below 150% of the federal poverty guidelines and did not qualify for other programs.

NGMC plays a major role in funding a primary care clinic at the Hall County Health Department to improve access to primary healthcare services for low-income people in our community. In FY12, NGMC contributed over $1.2 million.

In 2012, nearly 600 volunteers
contributed more than 56,000
volunteer hours,
the equivalent of 27
full-time employees.

NGMC Volunteers

In FY12, nearly 600 NGMC volunteers contributed more than 56,000 volunteer hours, equivalent to 27 full time employees and a value of over $1.2 million. While these figures are not included in the quantitative portion of the community benefit report, they show the depth of support the community gives NGMC. The Teen Volunteer Program had 106 teens to participate in 2012. The teens came from 8 counties and represented 27 different schools within the area.

The Medical Center Foundation

The MCF is the fundraising arm of NGMC and NGHS and raises funds to improve the health of the community. The Foundation's operating expenses are supported by NGMC so that donated funds can be used to support NGMC projects and community health improvement initiatives. Following are items of interest to note:

- Since 1997, over $3.4 million has been raised for community health improvement projects through The Medical Center Open;
- The 2011 Medical Center Open Golf Tournament, held in FY12, raised over $233,000 to benefit My Sister's Place to care for homeless women and their children in our community;
- W.A.T.C.H. members have donated more than $4 million to support the Healthy Journey Campaign since the program's inception in 2000.

Safe Kids Coalition Works to Keep Kids Safe

The Gainesville-Hall County Safe Kids Coalition, led by NGMC, is part of the National Safe Kids Campaign, the first and only national organization dedicated solely to the prevention of unintentional childhood injury, which is the nation's number one killer of children ages 14 and under. This program provides affordable safety equipment such as car seats and bike helmets to area children in need. Working with a coalition made up of law enforcement, area schools, community volunteers and others, Safe Kids provides educational materials and programs that teach children and their parents how to avoid accidents and injuries. Safe Kids continued the work of injury prevention for families in the Hall County community in 2012 thanks to the support of MCF and the Healthy Journey Campaign.

In FY12, members of the Gainesville-Hall County Safe Kids Coalition provided over 350 programs and events that reached an estimated 56,000 children and their family members, teachers and caregivers. Through these programs, over 2,500 safety devices were distributed to families who were in need of them.

Getting Older and Better Workshop

Over 150 people participated in the Getting Older and Better Workshop in May at First United Methodist Church in Gainesville and the Spout Springs

Library in Flowery Branch. This event was sponsored by The Medical Center Auxiliary, provided by NGMC, and featured Amanda Cain, MD, who spoke on Senior Health Tips.

Sponsorships and Donations

In FY12, NGMC sponsored or made a donation to approximately 15 community agencies serving health and human service needs, ranging from supporting the American Cancer Society to Teen Pregnancy Prevention. Sponsorships/donations totaled over $30,000 in FY12.

Employees Lead the Way: United Way Pacesetter & More

NGHS employees contributed over $127,000 to United Way as a Cornerstone Company.

NGMC employees are very active in the community, volunteering at the Good News Clinics, in their churches on mission trips and for community agencies such as the Humane Society and Habitat for Humanity. When it comes to supporting MCF's employee giving club, W.A.T.C.H. (We Are Targeting Community Healthcare), over 2,300 employees donated over $413,000 in FY12.

- NGMC is a training site for handicapped high school students who work in the areas of materials management, nutritional services, pharmacy and linens. 22 students and 2 instructors participated in FY12;
- 52 students from area high schools participated in the Youth Apprenticeship Program in FY12;
- NGMC partners with Lanier Tech to house a Radiology Tech Program and helps fund faculty; also provides classroom space for Lanier Tech's LPN program;
