COVID-19 Outreach in Partnership with Community Leaders

6/24/2021

Northeast Georgia Medical Center

Program Detail Full

For period from 10/1/2019 through 9/30/2020

Description: By April 2020, 50% of confirmed COVID-19 cases were in the Latino population, which was disproportionate considering 29% of Hall County's population is Latino. This prompted NGMC to gather an outreach committee and community-wide collaborative to support and educate the Latino community through grassroots efforts. The group accomplished the following:

- Produced bi-lingual fliers and posters (for businesses and community).
- Distributed face masks and cleaning supplies to businesses and schools
- Partnered with area school systems to provide masks, cleaning supplies, and one-on-one education to children and their families through lunch delivery routes over the summer.
- Organized testing events in partnership with Emory University's Rollins School of Public Health, which also doubled as clinical trials for Emory to compare a saliva test to the nasopharyngeal testing for those willing to undergo both tests.
- Hosted educational webinars for community groups and churches.
- Produced specialized videos for the local audience.
- Provided health education and messaging for the community to use with their circles of influence.
- Posted daily updates on NGHS' public website and social media channels to share information on the number of confirmed COVID positive patients being treated in NGHS facilities, patients awaiting test results, and Hall County-specific information. Resources and trends for COVID-19 are available to the public at www.nghs.com/covid-19.

The prevalence of COVID-19 in these communities also led to the creation of the Gainesville Against COVID-19 Task Force which included local Hispanic leaders, NGHS physicians, the Northeast Georgia Latino Chamber of Commerce and others. NGMC representatives Christy Moore and Antonio Rios, M.D., served on this task force which was born out of the Governor's visit to Hall County in May 2020 with Georgia Department of Public Health Commissioner, Kathleen Toomey, M.D.

The Community COVID-19 Leadership Coalition, a community-wide collaborative, was formed in September 2020 that included NGMC, Longstreet Clinic, Good News Clinic, District 2 Public Health, Greater Hall Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations to implement a unified plan for the Hall County-Gainesville area to prevent the spread of COVID-19, with a goal to meet and sustain the World Health Organization's target of no more than 5% of those tested are positive for COVID-19 – protecting the mental and physical health of all area residents and supporting a healthy economy going forward. From this, local businesses and government entities joined together to create the "We are hALL IN" campaign to set the standard for COVID-19 prevention. Those who are "hALL IN" pledge to wear a mask when appropriate, practice social distancing and abide by other health and safety guidelines. Learn more at www.wearehallin.com.

This entry only includes staff time toward coalition meetings, planning and development of health education messaging and videos.
