CME Diversity in Medicine Series

8/1/2022

Northeast Georgia Medical Center

Program Detail Full

For period from 10/1/2020 through 9/30/2021

Description: The CME Diversity in Medicine series was developed to advance the diversity and inclusion efforts of NGHS. The CME Department in coordination with the Graduate Medical Education Department offered a seven-part interactive "Diversity in Medicine" series. Virtual conversations centered on offering strategic approaches to promote and champion diversity, equity and inclusion. The webinar series incorporated evidence-based strategies focusing on ways for the organization to improve diversity and inclusion practices. The goal of the series was to train all learners to effectively treat diverse patient populations and to deliver more equitable care to our communities by addressing both structural racism and interpersonal biases that contribute to inequities in healthcare for patients. The topics for the series included healthcare disparities, race and medicine, conscious and unconscious racial biases, structural racism in healthcare, gender harassment, anti-racism, and next steps forward.

Community Health Needs Assessment 2020-2022

Description: This entry reflects FY21 expenses from the Community Health Needs Assessment (CHNA) for 2020-2022. The CHNA was conducted in FY19. NGMC's CHNA includes healthcare partners in the region, community input, and a quantitative and qualitative assessment performed by IBM Watson Health. The CHNA for northeast Georgia has been presented and approved by each hospital partners' governing body, and the full assessment is available to the public at no cost via each CHNA partner's website. For this CHNA, partners include District 2 Public Health, Habersham Medical Center, and Stephens County Hospital.

The CHNA partners collaborated with Watson Health to develop an interactive Tableau dashboard that displays the quantitative data collected as part of the recent CHNA. The Community Health Data provides access to over 120 county-level public health indicators as well as proprietary Watson Health estimates for demographics, community need, disease prevalence, insurance coverage, and emergency department visits. The dashboard is available to the community at <http://www.nghs.com/community-benefit-resources>.

Junior Achievement

Description: Junior Achievement is an organization that educates youth about free enterprise while encouraging youth to stay in school. NGMC provided a sponsorship to Junior Achievement, which includes support to the Mike & Lynn Cottrell Discovery Center where students have the opportunity to learn key business concepts that are taught in the classroom and apply those concepts in a highly immersive, authentic and interactive setting. JA programming, which is embedded into the core classroom curriculum, combined with an authentic simulation experience at the JA Discovery Center, supports our school districts to update the learning experience. This creates an experience that is more relevant to students, increasing their overall engagement in school, and leads to increased academic performance in middle school and beyond.
